MOSES KILBERN BROCK

Moses Kilbern Brock was born in Grainger County, East Tennessee the son of Moses Brock and Mahalah Dyer. His parents and a large number of children lived on a farm at Powder Springs Gap, Tennessee when he was born on September 13, 1840 and where he was reared and "educated in the common schools of his county." At the age of ten in late 1850 his parents moved to Pike County, Arkansas and settled east of Murfreesboro on the public road now Highway 26 near Saline Creek.

Moses Kilbern Brock volunteered as a soldier in the Confederate army on July 20, 1861 and was a member of the original "Pike County Blues" the first company organized out of Pike County, Arkansas during the Civil War. This company was officially designated as Company G and attached to the Fourth Arkansas Regiment of Infantry (McIntosh Brigade) in Benton County, Arkansas. He eventually obtained the rank of Third Lieu-tenant. In 1912 he spoke of his service and said, "When I enlisted at Murfreesboro, Pike County, there were one hundred men, rank and file, and at the surrender there were only four men, which were Eri Webb, C.K. Garner, James McGhee, and M.K. Brock, the others having been killed, wound-ed, died and deserted." He also provided an account of the battles his company was engaged while he was in active service. "The first engagement (was at) Pea Ridge, Arkansas. McIntosh and McCollum were killed in the Battle of Pea Ridge. The command was then transferred to the Eastern Department (and) the first engagement in the Eastern Department was at Farmington, Mississippi. The next was at Richmond, Kentucky. The next, (a) three day's engagement, was at Murfreesboro, Tennessee and (one at) Jackson, Mississippi. (Next), three days (at) Chicamauga, Georgia (and) the general engagement from Missionary Ridge to and around Atlanta, Georgia. (Also) the Battle of Franklin, Tennessee (and) two days at Nashville, Tennessee under J.B. Hood. I was captured and imprisoned at Johnston's Island near San Dusky City where I was released (on) July 16th 1865."

Following his release and return to Pike County, Arkansas he was married to Sarah Jane Reid on October 25, 1865. She was the daughter of John and Mary Reid of Antoine, Arkansas who came to Pike County in 1856 from Gwinnett County, Georgia. Moses Kilbern Brock and Sarah Jane Reid had twelve children. RESETTING THE OLD LANDMARKS

A History of the Clark-Pike Missionary Baptist Association by Russell Pierce Baker (c) 1993

Part 3

As early as December of 1901, the Pike County churches within the Red River Association began calling for the organization of a separate Pike County Baptist Association. At the Fifty Sunday Meeting held late that year, Elders W.M. Patterson and J.B. Thomas were authorized to travel throughout the county to ascertain the feelings of the churches on this matter. However, for some reason, a new association was not organized at that time. Nevertheless, within a few years Pike County churches from both associations were fellowshiping together and supporting the State General Association's mission work and receiving church members. In 1905 Bro. Thomas, acting as secretary of one such meetings, urged the Pike County churches to "take a good collection for the General Association and by so doing help to preach ... to the heathens."

At the 1905 session of the Red River Association, four of the Pike County churches: Wall Creek, Murfreesboro, Pike City, and Spring Hill, asked for letters of "dismissal" for the purpose of organizing a "new association in Pike County." An analysis of the records of this session indicate that six of the Association's churches: Arkadelphia, Antoine, Boughton, Delight, Gurdon, and Gum Springs, were at that time, active supporters of the State General Association. However, for the sake of unity within the body, the Association once again adopted a position that support of one State organization or the other was to be left up to the individual churches. This "duel support" position would continue within this association until most of the Landmark churches left and for the Clark County Baptist Association in 1917.

As its 1905 session the Caddo River Association also dismissed some of its Pike County churches to help organize the new association. They were Salem in Pike County, Caney Valley, Mount Pleasant, and Bethlehem. Valley Grove church near Glenwood followed in 1906. In the summer of 1905, a firm call had gone out to these churches to send, "delegates to Pike City (church) to work up a ... County association." This meeting was successful and the churches were then asked to send additional messengers, perhaps once again to Pike City Church, to finalize the organization. The date and exact place of this "first session" of the Pike County Association is not known. However, it was held in October of 1905. Pike City, Spring Hill, Salem, Caney Valley, Mount Pleasant, and Bethlehem churches appear to have been in this meeting.

On October 6-8, 1906 the Pike County Missionary Baptist Association met with the Caney Valley Church. This is the first session for which there are records. The following churches were received into its fellowship: Murfreesboro, Wall Creek, Valley Grove, Amity, and Midway. Its principal business during this session was to pass a strong endorsement of the, "schedule of work set forth by the (State) General Association of Arkansas." In its 1907 meeting, Bethel Church near Glenwood was received. During this session the Association approved the "let each church chose" approach to mission support that had been adopted by the Red River Association. It is felt that this was done due to the influence of the Murfreesboro and Amity churches, the two largest congregations in the Association. In 1909 the following churches were added to the fellowship: Glenwood, Liberty Hill, Caney Fork, and a church at Shawmut. At this session the Association once again changed its mind and voted to recommend that its churches, "cooperate with the General Association in the true gospel method of missions." In 1911 the Association recommended that the churches use the new Sunday School publications prepared by the Landmark Baptist publishing concern in Little Rock. However, by 1916 the urban churches - Amity, Glenwood, and Murfreesboro - with strong ties to the Convention system, once again began making waves within the Association's fellowship. Consequently, the body that year tried a middle approach: both Sunday School literature published by the Southern Baptist Convention and that published by Landmark Baptists were "endorsed." For the first time the churches were asked to report the type of literature they used in their Sunday Schools. It is interesting to note that the County churches that reported Sunday Schools using the Landmark material, while all the town churches were using the Convention material. As can be seen, the seeds of future controversy and division were already working within the Association.

Beginning in 1917 a much more strident tone can be seen in the records of the Association's meet-ings. That year, that great champion of the Landmark cause, and editor of The Baptist and Commoner, published in Little Rock, Dr. Ben M. Bogard, visited the Association as it met with Midway Church, east of Glenwood. "From what I could learn," he later wrote, "most of the churches and preachers in this Association are in harmony (with our Landmark) work (though) most of them do not seem to understand the difference." The cause of this more vocal and militant convention-ism within the Association was no doubt due to the fact that the Rev. William L. Compere, a long-time Arkansas Landmark foe and the brother of the editor of the Convention newspaper in Arkansas, The Baptist Advance, had recently become the Pastor of the church at Amity. From this time until his death in 1933, he "served (churches) at Glen-wood and Womble - weak (Convention) fields at the time." He was very articulate, very persuasive, and very well known. Although he "counted many friends among (the) 'Landmark' brethren, still he always rang true to (Convention) missions and all (Southern Baptist) organized work." Out of courtesy for his advanced years, Rev. Compere was often placed on the Association's committees. Here he used his considerable influence to see that mention was always made of the work of the Convention in committee reports. He also usually saw to it that any committee he chaired gave the lion's share of detail and praise to Convention work.

DEATHS & OBITUARIES

Beatrice Young

Beatrice Young, one of the High School girls of Daisy, Ark., died Saturday morning at one o'clock, June 26, (1926), of typhoid fever. She was four-teen years old and was promoted to the ninth grade at the close of the last term of school. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Z.M. Young, of Daisy, Ark. As one of our fellowmates she has represent-ed our school in all the literary contests during the past school year and has always been one of the leaders in all the games. We sincerely mourn her loss and extend to the bereaved family our sympa-thy. We feel that the school children of Pike county have lost one of their brightest members. She is survived by her father and mother, one brother, Finis Young, and two sisters, Dovey and Hortorie Young. - School Children of Daisy.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank our many friends for sympathies and kindness shown during the illness and death of our mother. We also thank you for the beautiful floral offerings which were so symbolic of the life she lived. - Mrs. Roy Sullivan, Leo Reese.

Mrs. Martha Buck Died Last Tuesday

Mrs. Martha S. Buck, aged 83, wife of Prof. J.G.H. Buck, died at her home on Murfreesboro Heights early Tuesday morning July 6, (1926), following a protracted illness. She was born in 1843 and married to Prof. Buck in 1857, living together in wedlock 69 years. They resided in Tennessee, Mississippi, Texas, and Arkansas, removing to this city from Palestine, Texas in 1912. None ever entered her home without a warm welcome, nor left without feeling the warmth of a genuine hospitality. Disease did not destroy the charm of a kind, indulgent disposition, nor old age diminish her unselfish solicitude for her loved ones and friends. She united with the Baptist church in early life and lived a consistent member of same until her death. While she has continued to enjoy the society of her friends and family, she has for several years realized that her active life was over and with resignation awaited the Divine call from death to life. She was the mother of a large family of boys and girls who mostly now reside in distant states. Business cares and their own home circles have encroached upon their time, and may possibly have robbed mother of their companionship, but she was ever just the same, rejoicing in their successes and grieving at their misfortunes. They may have grown away from her, but she never from them. Vain is any attempt to measure the loss of a mother to her children; after all the poets have sung and lovers dreamed, outside of heaven there is no love like mother love. She is survived by her husband J.G.H. Buck, three sons - Col. B.B. Buck of San Antonio, Tex., Garland and Carlton Buck of Sinton, Texas, three daughters - Mrs. W.M. Call of Battle Creek, Mich., Mrs. Walter Monroe of Port Arthur, Texas, and Mrs. S.K. Hohes, of this city. Funeral services were conducted at the family home by Rev. D.W. Cornish, and her body laid to rest in the Murfreesboro cemetery.

In Memoriam

Mrs. Lelia Ann Tribble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.O. Tribble, was born in Howard County, Arkansas, May 18, 1878, was married to Lon Reese on December 15, 1895, and died at her home near Bingen, Arkansas, at 10 o'clock, Mon-day evening, June 21, 1926. She united with the Methodist Church at the age of thirteen years and lived a faithful and consistent member there of until about twenty years ago, when she united with the Church of Christ, of which she was a member at her death. With the closing life of a day, she went to sleep like a tired child. It was soon after the birds had caroled their last song of the evening and the rosy fingers of the orb of day had finished their tinting of the western sky of glory. Surely a most fitting time for a pure spirit to take its flight heavenward. With an eye of faith, one could see, at the close of this memorable June day, an invisible hand wave a signal, and voice of soft accent on the evening breeze announce that the gates were open and that God's angels were waiting to escort her in. After a long, busy and useful life, she died as she had lived - honored, trusted, and loved. She reared her own monument while she lived, in the hearts of all who knew her. Her life was completed, if work all done and well down constitutes completion. Her Christian life was beautiful from its beginning to its close, and thru all the vicissitudes and sorrows that she met in the way, her faith in God never wavered. But she had left us and the autumn leaves will now fall upon another grave that hides from our sight all that is mortal of a true and noble woman. As the death dew gathered on her marble brow, around her bedside gathered a host of friends, her brothers and her girl and boy, always to her, girl and boy, though grown to mature years, and watched with tearful eyes the life so long interwoven with theirs, as it slowly, but surely passed over to the Great Beyond. The love of a mother for her children passeth all human understanding. The girl that stood about the cot of this dying mother and so bravely fought the Death

Angel, long ago passed out from the little home circle. The cares of her own home have encroached upon her time, and may have robbed mother of her companionship, but she was ever just the same, rejoicing in her success and grieving at her misfortunes. She may have grown away from her mother, but her mother never from her, she was still her girl. We know that years hence, the memory of this mother's unselfish devotion will make her girl and boy better and her precepts will be their guiding star. Vain is any attempt to measure the loss of a mother to her children. Outside of Heaven, there is no love like mother love. We believe the tender care devoted by those nearest and dearest, went with her to the Better Land, and in the possibilities of Eternity, may be needed hereafter. In the light, not of the sun, neither of the moon, we see her beyond the fields of fadeless asphodel, under the waving palms, besides the still waters bordered with silver lilies. Impressive funeral services were conducted by Bro. Stell, of Delight, and Bro Johnson, of Bingen, at Ozan cemetery, Bingen, after which all that was mortal of this mother of Israel was tenderly conveyed to the Silent City, where, by the side of her devoted husband, she now rests in peace, awaiting the beautiful resurrection morning when we shall all be reunited. Well may her children cherish her memory as a precious legacy and we fain would say a word of comfort to the stricken ones. We can but let our tears flow in sympathy with theirs and point them to the promise, "At eventide it shall be light." - A Friend.

HENRY SPARKS Born 1804 Died 1864

Henry Sparks was born on April 22, 1804 while his parents were living in Franklin County, Georgia and we have a record of his wife and children contained in a family Bible. The Bible was a wedding present on the occasion of the marriage of John Henry Wood and Margaret Jane Sparks, daughter of Henry Sparks, on April 13, 1856. It appears records that had been kept by her parents as well as by the parents of her husband, were copied into this new Bible, with the births of the Wood children being then recorded as they occurred. Included was a listing of the names and dates of birth of the children of Henry Sparks and his wife, Martha (Osburn) Sparks.

Henry Sparks was 13 years old when his father sold his land in Franklin County, Georgia and moved to Gwinnett County, Georgia. It was there he was married on November 5, 1829 to Martha Osburn. She was born on January 29, 1807 some-where in South Carolina. Henry Sparks moved his family from Gwinnett County to Walker County, Georgia which is in the northwest corner of the state. In 1850 they were living over the state line in Cherokee County, Alabama. In 1851 or 1852 Henry Sparks again moved his family westward, this time to Arkansas. His name appeared on the poll tax list of Pike County, Arkansas in 1852.

According to the records contained in the family Bible that belonged to Margaret Jane (Sparks) Wood and her husband, her father Henry Sparks died on March 15, 1864. Her mother "Marthy" (Osburn) Sparks died a few weeks earlier on January 8, 1864. They were likely buried in the family burial plot on Henry Sparks farm in Caney Fork Township, Pike County. As the years passed their exact burial sites have been forgotten.

The children of Henry and Martha (Osburn) Sparks were as follows:

Russell Jones Sparks was born in Gwinnett County, Georgia on August 24, 1830; he died on September 29, 1871. He was married to Sarah Caroline Osburn in Clark County, Arkansas on November 5, 1852 at the residence of the bride's parents, Jesse and Elvira Osborn. Russell J. Sparks served in the Union Army during the Civil War and following his death his widow applied for a pension based on his service.

William Erwin Sparks was born on September 10, 1831. He married Bede Caroline Osborn in 1854 in Clark County, Arkansas.

Elizabeth Ann (Becky) Sparks was born on July 21, 1833; she died on February 3, 1864. She was married to John Cox on July 24, 1861.

Nancy Caroline Sparks was born on April 30, 1835. She was married to W.M. Jinkins (Jenkins) on May 18, 1852.

Margaret Jane Sparks was born on November 23, 1836 and died on January 28, 1916. She was married to John Henry Wood on April 13, 1856. He was born on May 20, 1834 and died on July 19, 1917. According to information recorded in their family Bible, both Margaret Jane and John Henry (Wood) were "of Mountain Home" which is a town in Baxter County, Arkansas.

Rutha Marier Sparks was born on May 10, 1838. She died in infancy on July 12, 1839.

John Britton Sparks was born on August 22, 1840 in Georgia and died on March 13, 1886 in Pike County, Arkansas. He was married in Murfreesboro, Arkansas on July 29, 1866 to Sarah Carpenter. She died on March 3, 1923. John Britton Sparks served in the Union Army during the Civil War and in 1890 his widow applied for a pension based on that service.

Martha Manurvey Sparks was born on September 7, 1844. She died on May 7, 1854.

Sarah Amanda Lucinda Trimble Sparks was born on June 21, 1846 (or 1847) in Cherokee County, Alabama. She died on December 17, 1914 in Pike County, Arkansas. She married Jett Millard Davis on August 13, 1865. Both are buried in the Wood Cemetery in Pike County.

Henry Teague (Doc) Sparks was born on October 15, 1848 (or 1849) in Cherokee County, Alabama. He died on March 8, 1893. Henry Teague Sparks was married to "Susaner" (Susannah) Jane Griffin on July 30, 1871. She was born on February 14, 1858 (or 1853) and died on March 29, 1891. There was a note in a Bible owned by a son to the effect that Green Griffin a gunsmith, born in Lauderdale County, Alabama who was 42 years old in 1863, and a John Griffin born in Pike County, Arkansas were (father) and brother of Susannah Jane Griffin. John Griffin was 18 years old in 1865.

Another note in this same Bible says, "Mr. and Mrs. Britton Sparks, Mr. and Mrs. Holbart Lewis, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Horton came to Victoria County, Texas in 1901."

WILLIAM BROWN

His grandfather William Brown moved to Pike County, Arkansas in 1832 from Lincoln County, Missouri. He returned to Lincoln County, Missouri in 1834. He was a veteran of the Revolutionary War. He later returned to Arkansas where he again lived in Pike County.

William Brown, farmer and son of Levi and Mary (Oden) Brown, was born in Lincoln County, Mo., where he is now living, in June 1836. The father was born in Cocke County, Tenn., in 1796 and the mother in Barren County, Ky., she being a little older than her husband. He came to Lincoln County in 1815, and she to St. Charles County a few years before, and lived for some time in a fort. After their marriage, in 1829, they settled in Lincoln County, and here spent the balance of their days. He was a mechanic, making spinning wheels, coffins or whatever the early settlers needed, though at the same time he carried on farming. He died in 1881 and she in 1877. He was a Democrat previous to the war and afterwards a Republican. In their family were five children, of whom two sons and one daughter are now living. The grand-father, William Brown, fought in the Revolutionary War. William Brown, the subject of this sketch, was reared on a farm and received little or no education. He lived with and cared for his parents until their death. In 1858 he married Miss Nancy E. Williams, daughter of John P. and Mary (Hat-field) Williams, who were the parents of four daughters, of whom Mrs. Brown is the youngest. The fruits of Mr. Brown's marriage were two children, John L. (deceased) and Levi. Since his marriage Mr. Brown has lived on his fine farm, consisting of 222 acres all well cultivated; besides this he has ample means on interest. He has been a resident of Lincoln County for the past fifty-two years, and has never been on a train or a steam-boat. For about three years during the war he belonged to the militia.

CRATER OF DIAMONDS STATE PARK

Situated among the pine forests of southwest Arkansas near Murfreesboro is a rare 40 acre field where diamonds can be found in their natural matrix. Visitors from around the world search for diamonds at this unique geologic occurrence. This field is the only diamond area in North America open to the public. Over 70,000 diamonds have been found at the "Crater" (an eroded volcanic pipe) including such noted finds as the Uncle Sam (40.23 carats), Star of Murfreesboro (34.25 carats), Amarillo Starlight (16.37 carats), and the Star of Arkansas (15.33 carats). In June of 1981, the 8.82 carat Star of Shreveport was added to the growing list of valuable stones picked up at the Crater. An average of more than 600 diamonds is found each year.

Although genuine diamonds are the chief attraction, other semi-precious gems and minerals can also be found. Amethyst, agate, jasper, quartz, calcite, barite and many others, including over 40 different rocks and minerals, make the area a rock-hound's delight.

HISTORY

The first diamond was found here in 1906 by John Huddleston, who owned the property. The Crater of Diamonds has changed hands several times over the years and several unsuccessful attempts have been made at commercial mining. All such ventures are shrouded in mystery; lawsuits, lack of money, and fires are only few of the reasons for failure. The mine was operated by private interests as a tourist attraction from 1952 to 1972 when it was purchased by the State for development as a state park.

DIAMOND-HUNTING TIPS

1. Look for a small, well-rounded crystal. A diamond weighing several carats may be no larger than a marble.
2. Diamonds have an oily, slick outer surface that dirt or mud will not stick to, so look for clean crystals.
3. If you think you have a diamond, hold it carefully in your hand. Experience has shown once a diamond is dropped, it usually isn't found again that day.
4. Diamonds may be any of several colors. The most common found at the Crater are clear white, yellow, and brown.
5. Bring any stone you think may be a diamond to the Visitor Center for free weight and certification. Anything you find is yours!

FACILITIES

This unique state park comprises 888 pine-covered acres along the banks of the Little Missouri River. Modern campgrounds, bath-houses, and picnic areas are available to visitors. A gift shop, interpretive exhibits, audio-visual room, restrooms, and park offices are located in the Visitor Center, with a restaurant and picnic areas close by. Motels, hospitals, and other conveniences are a few minutes' drive way in nearby towns. The park is open year-round (hours change seasonally).

INTERPRETIVE SERVICES

Orientation programs are offered at the Visitor Center. During the summer months, evening programs covering a variety of subjects including nature, geology, diamond "mining" methods, and history are available to all park visitors. Organized groups may request special programs to meet specific interests, if scheduled in advance.

The River Trail (1.3 miles) winds its way through the woods to the scenic Little Missouri River. It provides a relaxing 1-hour hike over level terrain.

FEEES

Mine Admission. A nominal entrance fee is charge to adults and children (6-12). Children under six may look for diamonds free if accompanied by an adult.

Group Rates. Any organized group of 20 or more may search for diamonds at one-half the regular fee. Advanced notice must be given to obtain reduced group rates.

NOTE: There are 60 campsites with water and electricity available. Campers must register at the Visitor Center before occupying a site. All sites are assigned; limited reservations available.

LOCATION

Two miles southeast of Murfreesboro on Arkansas Highway 301.

Southwest Arkansas Regional Archives

Old Washington Historic State Park Washington, Arkansas

The Southwest Arkansas Regional Archives (SARA) is dedicated to the purpose of collecting and preserving primary source materials that bring together the unique history of Southwest Arkansas. These materials include letters, journals, maps, scrapbooks, family histories, pictures, pamphlets, newspaper files, manuscript collections, sheet music, court records, census records, early post office records, Civil War documents and a library of rare books relating to the area.

SARA was founded in 1978 with assistance from the Arkansas History Commission, the Old Washington Historic State Park, and the Pioneer Washington Restoration Foundation. In 1980 SARA became an independent archives governed by a board of directors composed of two representatives from each of the eleven counties formed from the original Hempstead County in 1819.

SARA is located in the restored 1874 courthouse in Old Washington and serves as a central clearing house for the preservation of records to be used by scholars and researchers of the history of this region of Arkansas. This is why we say "The story comes together here!"

About Southwest Arkansas

When the Territory of Arkansas was created in 1819, Hempstead County embraced the entire southwest corner of the territory. Until the Great Southwest was opened for settlement after the War with Mexico in 1846, Southwest Arkansas was the edge of the frontier for the United States. To the west was the Indian Territory; south of Red River was the Spanish (later Mexican) Province of Texas. Due to its historical and geographical location, a culture developed in Southwest Arkansas that differed from the Delta area of Southeast Arkansas or the mountain region of the Ozarks to the north.

Today this same area is divided into these twelve counties: Columbia, Howard, Lafayette, Little River, Miller, Nevada, Ouachita, Pike, Polk, Sevier, Union and Hempstead.

This area was historically significant long before the Louisiana Purchase. The Great Bend in the Red River was the center of the important Caddo Indian culture which disappeared shortly before 1800 and the river was to play a decisive role as the white man moved westward. It brought the early ex-plorers, settlers and slave traders who led the way for later legends such as Stephen Austin, Jim Bowie and Sam Houston. The rich bottoms lands and sandy redlands attracted cotton planters and independent farm families from Virginia, the Carolinas, Georgia and Alabama. SARA seeks to document this little-known chapter of American history.

Who May Use SARA

All serious researchers, including grade school students, are welcome to use the collection. Materials cannot leave the archives, but must be used in the research room. Copies may be obtained of materials whose condition will allow copying.

How You Can Help

The Southwest Arkansas Regional Archives is a non-profit research center dependent upon donations of money as well as historical materials. Historical materials may be donated through any member of the Board of Directors or by contact-ing:

About Old Washington

In 1824 the town of Washington in Hempstead County was founded as the first seat of justice for the Southwest part of the Arkansas Territory. The Southwest Trail, the main road through the Territory to Texas led through the town. Later this same road became part of the infamous "Trial of Tears" during the Indian Removal of the 1830's. Washington served as a way station for adventurers on their way to fight in the Texas Revolution in 1836, for the gathering of troops for the War with Mexico in 1846, and as the Confederate State Capitol of Arkansas in the years 1863-1865 after Federal troops had captured Little Rock.

Washington was the center of a cotton planter aristocracy which wielded great political power during the early years of Arkansas history. Here, the culture of the Old South flourished for a time in a pioneer western setting, and Washington became a town where the rough frontiersman shook hands with polished gentlemen.

Today, Washington is being restored as an historic town by the Pioneer Washington Restoration Foundation and the Arkansas Department of Parks and Tourism. Attractions included furnished antebellum homes of Greek Revival architecture and a reconstruction of the blacksmith shop where legend says the first Bowie knife was forged. Tours can be taken every day from 9:00 a.m. to 5 p.m.

When SARA Is Open

7 days a week
 9 a.m. - 4 p.m.

SARA is located on the right-hand side of the first floor of the courthouse.

702 Hundred Oaks Dr.
Ruston, LA 71270

Mr. David L. Kelley
PO Box 1135
Salt Lake City, UT 84110

Dear David:

My husband Douglas Watkins is a direct de-scendant of Benjamin S. Davis born abt. 1821 TN died 1879 Pike Co. AR. His wife Elizabeth (?) born abt. 1832 SC died 1890 Pike Co., AR.

Benjamin S. Davis, Elizabeth and small son Wm. M. are listed in the 1850 Smith Co. TN census. By 1860 they have arrived in AR about the same time the John and Nancy Davis family from Smith Co. TN arrived: is there a possibility of any connection?

Doug and I are new members of the PCAHS. We have already reaped a world of good information from the Winter 1995 "Gems" with reference to the Hancock family.

Thanks to Dorothy Partain and member Theresa Harris of Camden, AR who have been so helpful. You and the PCAHS staff are to be commended for your talent, interest and hard work. We will always be grateful to you.

Sincerely,

Dorothy "Dot" Watkins
