PCAHS Seeking Donations

To help preserve county books, renovations

MURFREESBORO - Even though the Pike County Archives and History Society is nestled into its new home in the Pike County Annex Building, the society has found itself facing another obstacle.

The group now has the space, but are short on funds to renovate a room at the new location to house hundreds of county documents.

On the third floor of the Pike County Courthouse, stacks and stacks of county books are being housed in the old jail cells. The society's goal is to move the books to the new location so they will be properly cared for and accessible.

The society, which is a non-profit group, has set up accounts at all area locations of Diamond State Bank and the Bank of Delight to accept donations for the project.

The society is shooting for a $10,000 goal. The money will be used to renovate the room as well as build shelving to display the documents. Society member Chester Gage said material and labor for the project are also being solicited.

PCAHS treasurer Linda Wilson said if enough donations are received, some of the money will go toward purchasing at least three computer systems.

"We'll take anything we can get at this point," Wilson said.

The society is currently gearing up to host an open house event on Friday, March 8. The event will be held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. and refreshments will be served.

Persons wanting to obtain more information about PCAHS should contact Harrison Gilmer at (870) 285-3187, Wilson at (870) 379-2471 or Jan Mc-Galliard at (870) 379-2540, or email jmcgalliard@alltel.net.

Monetary donations may be sent to Linda Wilson, 229 E. Antioch St., Delight, AR 71940.

Material donations pertaining to area history may be made to Jan McGalliard, P.O. Box 96, De-light, AR 71940.

PCAHS correspondence inquires may be made to Retha Adams, P.O. Box 65, Kirby, AR 71950.

Memoirs of Murfreesboro

By Mrs. J.E. Blanchard

These are my memoirs. Since looking back over my past life, my childhood days, which consist of my school days, my life as a country school teacher, etc.

I am wondering if there isn't some of my old friends and pals living today, who would like to hear my reminiscences. They or their children or, perhaps their grandchildren.

My father Q.H. Lewis I, hailed from Tennessee. He fought in the Civil War, (South), he was held a prisoner on Johnson's Island in Ohio. I was a child when he passed away, but I remember his telling me of the cruel happenings of his prison life. When the war was over he returned to Tennessee and married my mother - Miss M.J. Smathers. They came to Arkansas and settled at Murfreesboro. To them were born eight children, four of them lived, including Q.H. Lewis II, Lule Ella and myself.

At the time the little town was sparsely settled, including a post office, court house (made of wood), two stores (one them my father's and I believe the other belonged to Mack Holland). A blacksmith shop, a one room school house with a room above, which was a Masonic hall, and a cupola on the top which contained a bell that resounded a long distance away.

I am told this bell is still in reserve. There was no church there and all denominations worshipped in the school house. I remember some good meetings were held there.

At school we used our drinking water from a spring, which was at the foot of a hill, a water pail and tin dipper sat on a bench at the entrance of the door, and all the pupils drank from the same dipper.

The school terms were short, from three to five or six months, and teachers were changed every term. A Mrs. Thomas was the first I remember, she had a daughter about 16 years old and she taught the beginners. Some of you will remember her, Miss Emma Cranford, she married Mr. Jake Hoover. I learned my A-B-C's at Miss Emma's knees.

My first recollection was not much to indicate the point at which country ended and town began. The buggies and wagons moved along roads between cornfields and cotton patches. The town was in sight when the court house could be seen. The frontiers between them were definite in those days, and now that Highways signs mark it, it no longer exists.

In the "old days", people rode in buggies, wagons and on horseback. The people arose from their sleep before day-light. The father or older son built a fire place. The women and children gathered their clothes and scuttled to the fire place to dress. In winter they often had to break ice in the water pail in order to wash up for breakfast. In preparing breakfast, a husband had to have hot biscuits, ham, fresh butter and eggs, sorghum molasses, all of which was produced on the farm. He would say, "We have to have something to stick to our ribs."

They claimed that winter thickened their blood, and in the spring, they took doses of Sulphur and molasses or drank sassafras tea, all of this was not because of poverty, but simply they used what they produced.

Dish washing always brought up the question of a pig. It was downright wasteful to throw out all the good dishwater and sour milk. Milking and churning had to go on, sometimes they milked four or five cows.

There was no sale for milk or butter, so they always furnished their neighbors with milk and butter if their cows were dry (no cost attached).

Butchering was hard work, but they had to have good sausage, head cheese, home cured hams and bacon, home rendered lard. Straw or hay was used for mattresses. They raised geese from which they made their feather beds. Their sheets were made from unbleached muslin, with a seam down the middle. Quilts and comforts were made for cover, no blankets, unless they had a loom to weave them on. All scraps from sewing to make quilts of.

Mothers always strove against poverty to give their daughters the best. The girls dressed in their best and went to Church on Sunday, and did they have good times, "old time meetings" - no christian was ashamed to stand up and testify for the Lord.

The young men and boys always sat on the back seats during services and when it was dismissed and the girls passed out, the boys would step up to them and say "may I walk you home?" These were the best times they had, only when they met at each others homes to sing. There were no theaters, no drug stores, no restaurants, movies, skating rinks, etc., in those days. Maybe some one who reads this will remember those "old days". Some call them the "good old days" but were they? The young folks today have better facilities, such as education, training for better work in every way. After all, it may be the way God intended it to be. I am not intelligent enough to judge. I am glad they have the better things of life. May God bless the coming generation. Our young people are growing wiser all the time.

The residences had no architecture, some of them built of logs, but they were substantial, and weathered many storms. There was always a front porch, sometimes a hall between the two front rooms.

The water bucket, wash pan and towels, wash table etc., on the front porch also, house plants in buckets or cans, behind the house there was a vegetable garden, wood shed, chopping block and well. A path led to the hen house and barn. As for side walks, lumber came high, as saw mills were scarce and far away, so people had to be content with gravel held in place by the edge of a board.

It was considered a woman's place was at home and very few were seen in town, unless a lecture or magic lantern show was to be given at the court house. Men got the mail and bought the groceries. There was no reason why a housewife should go to town, what with her having the housework to do, such as milking, churning, tending to the garden, washing, sewing, ironing, tending the chickens, sometimes working in the fields. In fact it was almost a disgrace for her to be seen on the street.

When necessity, or some definite pleasure dictated an excursion in to the public places, she prepared herself for it. She curled her hair on paper, or used a curling iron that was heated in a kerosine lamp chimney, changed her shoes, adjusted hat and gloves, put on her second best dress, and consumed an hour or more getting ready to go. It was not seen that woman's place was in the home until she began to go out of it. The women in those days had more work to do, as compared with today, but they all seemed happy and peaceful and contented.

Desmond Walls Allen

Pike County Arkansas Deaths 1941-1948, Adams-Lockeby. Desmond Walls Allen, Arkansas Research, Inc., PO Box 303, Conway, AR 72033.

PCAHS extends its appreciation to Desmond Walls Allen for again providing "The Gems" death certificate index information for Pike County, Arkansas. Arkansas is fortunate to have indexes of the death certificate records in a series of volumes compiled and published by Desmond of Arkansas Research. One of the immediate values of these volumes is not having to exercise a "hit or miss" when ordering a death certificate. They provide the name of the individual, the date of death, and the county where the death occurred and are in both statewide and regional volumes and the information is the same, only the arrangement and selection are different.

Statewide Volumes

Arkansas Death Record Index, 1914-1923, 572 pages, $49.50;
 Arkansas Death Record Index, 1924-1933, 610 pages, $49.50;
 Arkansas Death Record Index, 1934-1940, 475 pages, $49.50.
 A volume for 1941-1948 is now avail-able. This volume shows age, race, and sex, in addition to the death date and county.

... My g. grandparents were Alfred and Teresa Hendrix who came to Hot Spring County about 1854 and moved to Muddy Fork (Pike Co.) in the 1860's. They are buried in the Corinth cemetery. I have quite a bit of the family history with the exception of their son Robert who married Mary Emma Crawford. Robert died about 1890 leaving two daughters. They were Rosa (b) 1886 and Robbie (b) 1888. Emma later married Kenzy Jeffers about 1893 and they had several more children. In (the) 1900 census Robbie and Rosa were living in this (the Jeffers) household. I think Rosa married I. Cornish in 1903 and Robbie married Bob Spradlin. I want to find out more about these girls ...

Subject: Re: Pike County Arkansas Genealogy

I am looking to confirm the marriage of Arthur Brown Campbell and Ida Josephine Lomax

Gard-ner. From this, I am hoping to find where In Tennessee, Arthur Brown Campbell came from, and, who were his parents?.

The following information was provided by a relative of the Campbell's, Peggy Campbell, thus I have little ... source information. I am trying to substantiate anything that relates to this family from this information. I am trying to track the Campbell's for my wife.

Arthur Brown Campbell was born August 1862, in Tennessee-? His parents were both born in Tennessee-? His wife was Ida Josephine Lomax. She was born 12 August 1864, Emory, Holmes County, Mississippi. She died October 13, 1904 in ?. Her father was Charles Hannibal Lomax, born in Mississippi. Her mother was Josephine Raley, born in Mississippi.

Ida Josephine married Thomas L. Gardner when she was 14 years old, 20 November 1878, Clark County or Pike County, Arkansas. They had two known sons: James Hannibal Gardner, born Sep-tember 04, 1879 in Arkansas and Thomas Howard Gardner, born September 26, 1881 in Arkansas. It is unknown if Ida and Gardner were divorced or if Thomas L. Gardner died.

Ida Josephine then married Arthur Brown Campbell August 02, 1883, in Pike County, Arkansas. Their Children were: (1) Noda G. Campbell, born September 1884, Arkansas; (2) William C. (Coy), born 6 December 1885, Center Point, Arkansas; (3) Charles Cleburn, Born 29 August 1887, Clark County, Arkansas; (4) Jesse L. (Lee), born September 1889, Arkansas; (5) Oma E., born 1 March 1891, Arkansas; (6) Arthur Thomas (A.T. also "Doc"), born Jan 1896, Texas; (7) Gertrude, born June 1898, Texas; (8) Florence B. (possibly Aunt Frances), born January 1900, Texas; (9) Donald Eugene, born 2 March 1902, Victoria, Texas; (10) Chester, birth date unknown, Texas.

This information was provided on the Victoria, Texas U.S. Census taken in June 1900: It states that Arthur Brown Campbell was a farmer and that one of their children had died, unnamed.

Following is notes from Linda Schaaf Darnell as told her by Aunt Oma, prior to her death in 1969, regarding Oma's parents: The family of Ida Josephine and Arthur Brown Campbell were residing in Victoria, Texas. Ida died suddenly, ... (was) not healthful ... at the time. Oma heard ... her mother fall to the floor dead. Oma suggested that she was maybe 12 or 13 years old when her mother died, date unknown.

Noda was a school teacher, unmarried. In caring for her younger brothers and sisters she contracted viral influenza and died, date unknown, shortly after the death of her mother, Ida Josephine.

A grandmother, most likely the mother of Arthur Brown (Campbell), came in to care for the children when she also contracted the influenza and died, date unknown.

Following the deaths of the above, the father, Arthur Brown died of the same influenza, date unknown. The older boys (Coy, Clebe and Lee) tried to manage the farm and Oma cared for the younger children. It was such a great task that they placed the younger children in an orphanage, location unknown. They loaded their possessions onto a railroad box car and headed for Oklahoma (assuming for land settlement), however a fire destroyed everything in the box car and all their belongings were gone. They continued their trip to Oklahoma and around 1907-1911 they were living in Harrah, Oklahoma. Clebe, Coy and Oma were married during this time. They returned to claim the children from the orphanage and learned that the twins (unknown previously) had died and that Chester had ran away, never more to contact the family. Frances was remembered to be born pre-maturely, as Oma said, they carried her on a pillow.

The information regarding Gertrude and the twins was not previously made known to our family. Further research may possibly satisfy the answers to our missing puzzle ... With the deaths of the parents and older daughter, Noda, there was a great responsibility on the shoulders of Coy, Clebe, Lee and Oma. This would satisfy the reason for admitting the younger children to an orphanage. Their lives were not easy and they probably felt great fear to survive without parents. It is unknown if they had acquaintances in Oklahoma when they chose to relocate there.

Mr. Kelley,

My name is Yvonna (Jones) Gregory. I am researching the "Jones" line that eventually ended up in Pike Co. Ar.

The first generation I have been able to find is TRAVIS JONES b. 1808 in Ga. He married ELIZA JOHNSON from Attala Co. Ms. I do not yet know where they were married. I know they had part of their family, (my great grandfather WILLIAM M. JONES b. 1853) in Carroll Parrish La. and from there they moved to "possibly" Sevier Co., Ar. for a time, as TRAVIS was found in the 1870 census for that Co. with a new wife, MARTHA (maiden name) unknown, and all of TRAVIS (JONES) and ELIZA's children were found living with older bros. and sis. (Thereafter) they moved to Pike Co. Ar.

WILLIAM (JONES) built and owned the store in Langley. He was said to have been the first Postmaster of Langley ... I can find no documentation of his being Postmaster, but my Dad is certain of the fact. I am writing to you in hope that you might have this information documented somewhere.

WILLIAM (JONES) died Feb. 30, 1930 and in 1939 my Grandfather, JOHN LOUIS JONES, renovated the "old" (store) building and "modernized" it. He was the one who had the old GRIST MILL WHEEL built in the stone structure.

This is a shot in the dark ... I thought you might have documentation on some of these folks or early photos. My grandfather JOHN L. (JONES) died (when) my Dad was a boy and he can't re-member much about the history.

I appreciate your time and hope you can help me. I think the ARCHIVES and HISTORY SOCIETY will be a great success. I applaud everyone's hard work.

Appreciate, very much, any info you may be able to give me.

I have ancestry back to Oliver Brewer born 1774 in NC. His lineage goes back into the 1500's. His daughter Rosanna (Brewer) married Rowland Hughitt who was the father of John Oliver Hughitt who was on the 1850 census, Pike Co. ...

The Hughitts were in Texas, but they split into 4 different spellings! It was not until a couple of years ago that 3 of us put them all together ...

Hi there,

It was so nice meeting all of you yesterday (Grand Opening) and Joe and I both were impressed with your new building and how you have made it come together. Congratulations! I promised to send you the information on the 1880 U.S. Census CDs. They are from the Family History Library.

It is a nice boxed package with each CD in its own sleeve and all in a ring binder. It comes with a program for running it and two full Index CDs. You find who you are looking for, then insert the individual State CD and locate the family and their neighbors.

I understand there will be more packages such as this in the near future.

I am looking for birth records for JAMES CARLOS SMITH born on January 19, 1904. He was born in Kirby, Arkansas to JAMES MARION SMITH and MARY ASLE TEDDER SMITH.

I would also like to get a copy of the death certificate for JAMES MARION SMITH. He died in Pike County around 1930 ...

Please let me know if these records are available ... If these records are not available from you, I would appreciate a note to let me know, and if you know where I might send to get them. I would appreciate any information you might provide ...

Official birth records, certificates, for Arkansas begin in February 1914. The only male Smith having a death certificate on file with the State of Arkansas to die in Pike County, Arkansas during this time, "around 1930", was Jeff Smith on 08/25/1930.

I have not found where he (Samuel Hasley) and his wife are buried but have found his daughter Mariam Hasley Wingfield buried at Antoine.
